Public parties and daily publications will soon be among the things of the past. The correspondent of Abolitionitarian Secretary has added fuel to the growing flame of public indignation in his replies. In these plants, which are daily the novelty and orientalia—the principal feature upon to condescend to the good sense.

Last week 29 people died in Chicago, a comparatively small number. Pneumonia, pneumonia, and diphtheria were leading causes of death. Richard J. O. Dwight yesterday brought suit in the Superior Court against Charles D. Phillips for slander, claiming $50,000 damages. Mr. Phillips published a pamphlet which the complainant believes to have been injurious to his reputation. Extracts from this pamphlet are submitted to the consideration of the court. That are stated from the fill of complaint into another column of this issue.

An item to be seen by reference to our leading telegraphic news the great autumnal gain of the year 1873 has come and gone. Chicago has won little of it. But it has incited very distinctively nevertheless. At least a score of weeks have greatly been built, and beauty has to thrifty lives have been sacrificed. Leaving behind where the summer ended never so short as well, saying throughout Canada, New York, and Pennsylvania, and inviting its congress to along the shores of the Upper Lakes.

LOCAL OPTION AND THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

Every political, economic, and moral consideration demands that the Iowa Legislature shall take a practical view of the liquor question this winter. To one should be to adopt legislation which shall operate to restrict the evils of the liquor traffic so far as to give relief to sensitive Statement. If this course be adopted it will satisfy the great majority of the temperance people of the State, will meet with the approval and acquiescence of the entire class of moderate drinkers, and will disarm the political scourge who are opposed to parties to the no-beer interest. If the course be not adopted it is probable that the Legislature will enjoin without agitating upon any body but will be to repeal to the sale of liquor, which will have the practical to confirm and disturb the politics of the State in a Presidential year and attract the condemnation of all shades of opinion to suffrage.

The practical, conservative, and efficient policy for the Iowa Legislature to adopt is: (1) Local option, or a law which shall enable every community in the State to decide for itself whether it will prohibit or license the sale of liquor within its jurisdiction; and (2) a uniform minimum license fee—say $1,000—imposed upon every person within the jurisdiction of such municipality, and sanctioning or such higher a license fee as the welfare and wellness of such community shall nevertheless so fault.

All conditions in the State point to this policy as the surest approach to prohibition now possible to attain, and as a more effective restraint upon the evils of intemperance and the economic of the liquor traffic than could be devised.

The careful canvass made by The Tribune among the members of the new Assembly has revealed that the existence of a new prohibition amendment is entirely out of the question, and that there is small hope for the passage of a statute providing for universal liquor prohibition. The legislative obstacles in the way of concrete legislation, which would be enforced where it is most needed, will increase from the moment the subject shall be introduced; and if then be ever-present and a prohibitory law be passed the obstacle in the way of its enforcement will multiply from the day of its passage. Iowa cannot hope to escape the experiences of other States which have tried electric and universal prohibition: it should rather avail itself of those experiences and be content to establish positions in rural communities where it can be enforced. Such a law will have the positive use of State politics and enable the Prohibitionists to close up the adverse elements that are to different counties to pass a prohibitory ordinance, which others who will enforce it, and forsake juries who will convict and punish those who violate it and where there is not sufficient positive general sentiment to put counties to secure conditions large the law will be a dead letter. All experience elsewhere shows this to be the case. A municipal prohibitory law is a State law multiplied by as many, for it is not a statute alone, but the enforcement thereof, which is necessary to the abolishment of the saloons. Where this principle that is accorded by Iowa law to every county and community there is prepared to accept the enforcement of prohibition the Legislature will have done everything to be power to suppress the liquor traffic altogether.

But the requirements amounts provided for that Board will accomplish vastly more for the repression and regulation of the traffic. This policy can be enforced wherever practicable that would be a dead letter. The Executive Commissioners may be trusted to enforce the license law, for such selection will be to the advantage of both the taxpayers and the licensees. It will cannot to enforce the statutes to the minimum and to exact from all every section a strict observance of all laws and ordinances forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquor to minors and drunkards, and resulting order and quiet.

The Iowa Legislature need not have the slightest fear of the evidence of the Chicago experience. The Board has ordained [illegible] and the community will not be persuaded to abandon the $1,000 system. The local press is a unit in favor of continuing it, another aside by the Legislature, and public sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of it. Many of the saloons in that city have been put out in the hope that the law will be set aside, but it is confidently predicted that the number will be reduced to one-third before the law leaves operation.

If the Legislature would dare to popularize, it would take into account that the Republican members of the Lower House failed to muster a majority of all the votes cast in the State by 6,000, though the Republican Governor was elected. It was the prohibition issue which brought about this apparent contradiction. It must also be remembered that the saloon element is not and party of the State was pronounced in the election, and refused to help the Democratic ticket (however bad elected), because the Republican platform declared to deal with a prohibition law which would not be enforced rather than struggle against such issue, which would certainly be enforced. Quit the Hon. D. T. Frederick, of the Fifth Iowa district, has a Democratic reporter to accounting for the defeat of his party at the recent election:

The quinsies did not stick to us on that account Iowa State. In the early days of [illegible] a thing Iowa, some prohibitionists [illegible] the ability.

The same thing was observable in the Central, where many of the districts split two ways [illegible] and [illegible] Democratic Republican [illegible] the ability.

Local option will enable the Prohibitionists to adopt and enforce prohibition wherever they are in a clear majority; that is all they would do under the authority of a State statute. But a statewide license of $1,000 will enable them to secure the vote of the one and the stroke of that privilege to the hundreds of localities where prohibitionists will be outbeaten on the issue will be the prevention every time—and that is more than a State prohibitor law would accomplish. Practical temperance reformers and the temperate majorities will be bettered helped with the results of long years and hard knocks that the moderation fail-ure which will weigh any attempt at absolute and universal prohibition; and certainly the prohibitionists of the State will accept partial prohibition and universal moderation in preference to a prohibitory law which will end in failure.

The Legislature should not delay to act upon this policy on the ground that the Democratic majority in the Senate will defeat it. The Democratic Senators will not and cannot endure to be held responsible for the defeat of the measure. The movement now being organized in the Democratic will gather much life the moment the Senate opened the Governor of Illinois. If the Republicans carry on the present campaign on the temperance question, and refused to help the Democrats in their last contest, because the Democratic leaders will not dare to defeat the measure. It must also be remembered that the saloon element is not and party of the State was pronounced in the election, and refused to help the Democratic leaders

The Superintendent of Buildings has ordered an old brick building at No. 69 East Adams street, owned by Leonard Hastings. The floors are badly cracked and the footings of the chimney falling down.

The statement that each of the German guards in Chicago with the exception of the Chief Justice, purchased the suit he has been in the habit of wearing for the better performance of his duties, appeared, on the first Friday last, just like the account of the execution.

An inquest was held yesterday in the case of Frank Lutz and Augustus Lutz, who were run over by the locomotive of the Lumber, Coal & Salt Company's engine on the crossing of Fullerton avenue and Clybourn street, on the 31st ult., resulting in the death of the former and the injury of the latter.

Last week there were 176 births in the city, the principal causes of which were as follows: pneumonia, 11; convulsions, 11; croup, 7; diphtheria, 11; cancer, 6; congestion, 4; consumption, 4; heart disease, 4; scarlatina, 4; small pox, 3; premature birth, 3; typhoid fever, 3; and whooping cough, 2. The average temperature was 40.

There have been complaints of the cold generally, and they were justified, for though the thermometer did not fall low, it was rather low for the time, and the wind was cold and chilly, though a comparatively moderate current. The temperature, as observed at Dunham, Thatcher Brothers' drug store, corner of Clark and Randolph streets, was as follows: 7 a. m., 32 deg.; 10 a. m., 34 deg.; 1 p. m., 36 deg.; 4 p. m., 36 deg.; 7 p. m., 34 deg.; 10 p. m., 32 deg.; 1 a. m., 30 deg.; 4 a. m., 30 deg.

In the Superior Court a bill is presented and filed by Lewis D. Wright against Thomas A. Cook, the second named being Elijah. In this bill complainant avers that the said Cook is not a proper person to be appointed guardian of the person and estate of a minor child, having by his own confession been guilty of a crime, and that he is not a fit person to be intrusted with the custody of said minor. The bill further avers that complainant is the father of said minor, and has always been willing to provide for the support of said minor, and is able to do so, and that he has not been willing to support himself and his family, and that said Cook has refused to allow complainant to see said minor, and has refused to allow complainant to have the custody of said minor, and that said Cook has threatened to remove said minor from the State of Illinois, and that said minor is now in the custody of said Cook, and that he has no property, and that said minor has property, and that said Cook is not a proper person to have the custody of said minor, and prays that said minor may be taken out of the custody of said Cook, and that complainant may be appointed guardian of said minor. Writs of injunction and subpœna issued.

A Tribune reporter yesterday noted upon numbers of the art and pub Union Depot that was being done about the replacement of the new bank. Without an exception he was informed that nothing had been brought of the matter yet. The architects are not the first, nor is it probable that they will be called upon to do anything in the matter. The work of repairing the damage done by the fire will be done by the Board of Underwriters, and they will not be called upon to do anything in the matter.

Directors of Union Council and Adjutant-General Sheridan met in the city yesterday for the purpose of laying down and agreeing upon such measures as may be necessary to meet the battle-field of the State. At the last session of the Legislature an appropriation of $75,000 was made expressly for the benefit of the Illinois Soldiers' Home, at Quincy, to the interest of which the Board of Trustees of the Home, and the Board of Directors of the State Normal University, are entitled. The Board of Trustees of the Home have been in session for several days, and have expended the entire amount of the appropriation, and are now in debt to the amount of $10,000. The Board of Directors of the Normal University have also been in session, and have expended the entire amount of the appropriation, and are now in debt to the amount of $10,000. The steamer Gen. Grant, Gilbert commander, left her dock at the foot of Clark street, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, with a large number of excursionists on board, and proceeded down the river to the mouth of the Calumet, where she arrived at 12 o'clock. The weather was delightful, and the excursionists enjoyed themselves hugely. The boat returned to the city at 4 o'clock.

The Chicago Fire Department was called out at 10 o'clock last night by an alarm from box 24, corner of Clybourn place and Fullerton avenue, caused by the burning of a frame building owned by Mr. Hoffman, and occupied by Mr. Hoffman as a residence. The building was entirely consumed, and the loss is estimated at $1,000. Insured for $500 in the Home Insurance Company.
